ANATOMY OF A CAR ACCIDENT LAWSUIT

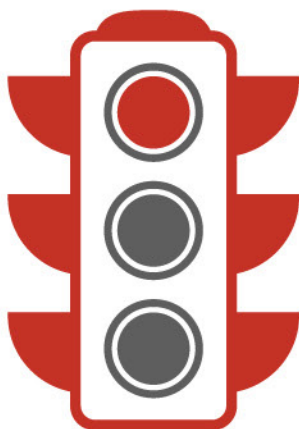

INFORMATION BASED ON AN ACTUAL CASE WON AT TRIAL

THE ACCIDENT

A vehicle ran a red light and slammed into the side of our client's truck.

Our client sustained serious back, knee and leg injuries – and more than $25,000 in vehicle damage – as a result.

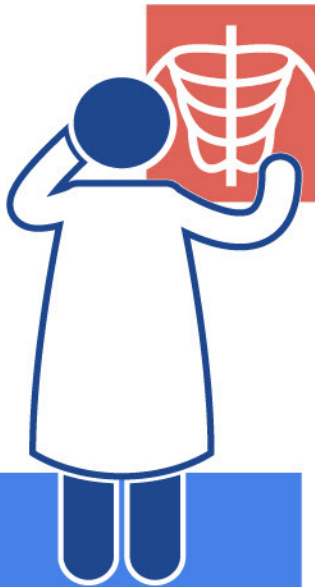

The driver who ran the red light broke multiple bones.

THE LAWSUIT

Merriman Legal filed a lawsuit on behalf of our client

The other driver and her defense attorney filed a counterclaim for negligence and damages, claiming our client was at fault.

The defendant hired a physician to write a report claiming our client was not injured as a result of the accident.

THE TRIAL

During the trial, we called medical experts – such as our client's treating physician – to testify before jury about the long-term impact of our client's injuries.

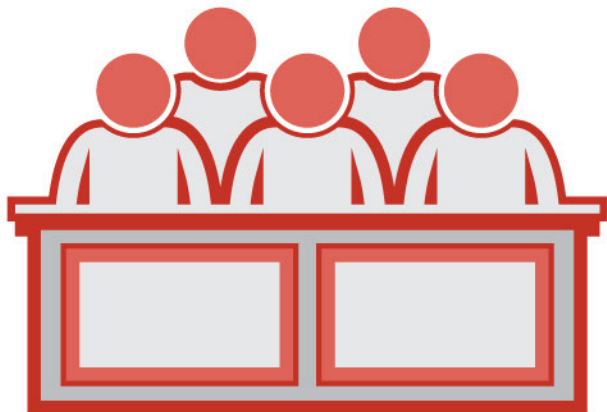

We interviewed witnesses to prove how the accident happened.

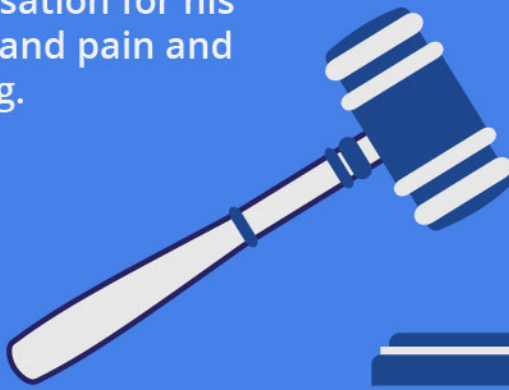

We cross-examined the defendant's witnesses to prove the weaknesses of the other driver's position.

THE VERDICT

Taking all factors into account over the course of a three-day trial, the jury unanimously ruled against the other driver.

Our client was awarded compensation for his injuries and pain and suffering.

After obtaining the benefits he deserved, our client was able to move on with his life knowing justice had prevailed.
